Good Works Annual Report

Purpose

Founded in 1988, Good Works Inc. is a faith-based nonprofit organization headquartered in Coatesville, PA. From our warehouse sites in Coatesville, West Chester, Phoenixville and St. Peters Village, we now serve 49 municipalities in Chester County. We transform sub-standard houses into warmer, safer, and drier homes, and despair into hope. Our services are offered to homeowners at no cost and volunteers do most of the repairs. Our goal is to see the inhabitants of these homes rise above their level of poverty and experience a richness through being cared for and knowing that their circumstances matter to their community and to God. We believe that everyone benefits when people from different races, cultures and backgrounds join together with a common purpose.

Charge

We are God’s workmanship, created in Christ Jesus to do good works, which God prepared in advance for us to do. Ephesians 2:10

Mission

Transforming lives by repairing homes for low-income families and sharing the hope found in Jesus Christ.

Vision

Repairing homes and restoring hope in communities nationwide.

Belief

God’s plan for us is revealed in the Bible where it is written that all who trust in Jesus Christ, the Son of God, as their Lord & Savior will one day spend eternity with Him in Heaven. In response to God’s unrequited love, mercy and grace towards us, we are compelled to serve others and share His love with them.

From the Executive Director

One of the things I most appreciate about Good Works is how people from different races, cultures, and socioeconomic backgrounds join together in a common purpose – repairing homes and restoring hope. This “joining together” is not exclusive to the volunteers who serve. It includes homeowners, their families, neighbors, local contractors, churches, businesses, donors and friends.

It is a vastly diverse collection of people who intentionally or unintentionally are living out one of the most recognizable scripture passages in the Bible – to love God and to love others (Mark 12:30,31). It is by doing this that we bring glory to God. While loving God is our priority, it seems more difficult to genuinely love our neighbors, especially if they think and act differently than us.

This year, Good Works is launching a special initiative entitled the “God Honoring Experience.” The intention is to turbocharge something we already do pretty well. But as acclaimed author Jim Collins would say, “Good is the enemy of great.” Our goal is to be great because we serve a great God.

The God Honoring Experience will compel each of us to look at every interaction as an opportunity to glorify our Creator. And, it all simply starts by seeing everyone the way that God sees them, as uniquely created, deeply loved and hungry for a relationship with Him. God’s perspective should change our perspective. That’s our 2020 vision!

As you read through this Annual Report, you will discover the five tenets of the God Honoring Experience and I hope you begin to see how those principles are being put into action in our daily operations. I trust you are as excited as we are to experience how God will use this initiative to draw us closer to each other and to Him.

To God be the glory!

Bob Beggs
Executive Director

There is no joy like the joy of serving others.

Honoring our Veterans

Teddy Cheshire never thought he would be asking for help. He considered himself a self-made man, fiercely independent and ready to take on the world. He came from a family of veterans. His father served in the Army Air Corps during WWII, his brother Wes was a B-52 mechanic in the Air Force, and his other brother, Frank, served with the Army 101st Airborne. Teddy chose the Navy because he heard, “the food is good and you can see the world.” He hoped to go into aviation, but was sent to school to become a guided missile technician and deployed on the USS Farragut, a Destroyer.

In 1974, Teddy was honorably discharged, went home to New York, and joined the Carpenters Union. That was until the bottom dropped out of the building boom in 1988. “The recession left too little work for too many tradesmen,” Teddy lamented. It was then that Teddy moved to Malvern and took a job with the Post Office as a clerk. He didn’t enjoy the work, but he had a family to support and it payed the bills. Disaster struck in 2018 when Teddy’s son Michael passed away suddenly at the age of 24. It devastated Teddy, and seemed to be the final blow in a life where so many things didn’t turn out the way he had hoped.

The mobile home park manager where Teddy lives noticed that his home had slipped into noticeable disrepair, and encouraged Teddy to contact us. Teddy recounts how, “My place was going down fast and so was I.” Teddy was afraid his mobile home needed to be demolished, but after Joe Lisowski, our Repair Supervisor, did his inspection, he told Teddy we could repair the unit while he was still living there. “That was the first good news I had in a long time,” Teddy said. Teddy now works part time as a delivery driver for a local auto parts store. “Things are starting to happen for me,” Teddy shared. Teddy helped out by using his carpentry skills, and did the majority of the drywall finishing. Teddy describes his experience with Good Works as a miracle: “I’m convinced that God and my son helped make this happen. Smack me! This must be a dream!”

“For the needy shall not always be forgotten; the expectation of the poor shall not perish forever.”

PSALM 9:18

Restoring Hope

My Ways are Not Your Ways

When the Good Works Board of Directors established "Replication beyond Chester County" as a goal in its 5-year strategic plan, they never imagined how it would play out. Over several years, a Replication Committee developed an affiliate-based model complete with everything necessary for a champion in another community to become an affiliate and grow an organization the "Good Works Way." Taking Good Works nationwide was not envisioned as an aggressive expansion strategy, but instead an exercise in waiting for God to make the first move. There were multiple expressions of interest and engagement with "champions" in communities both inside and outside of Pennsylvania, but most withdrew before incorporating as an Affiliate. It was initially disappointing, but what we didn't realize at the time was that God had an altogether different launch strategy for Good Works Replication.

During that time, Good Works became a member of the ReFrame Association, a national network of home repair non-profit organizations. Their goal is to share wisdom, resources and best practices for providing occupants of substandard housing with safer, more livable shelter. At the national conference in 2018, Bob Beggs, Good Works Executive Director made a presentation on using metrics and a balanced scorecard to measure and manage the Operations, Financial and Faith aspects of Good Works. One gentleman in the audience was Joe Huggins, Executive Director of Home Works of America, headquartered in Columbia, South Carolina. Joe commented that the session was, "the Eureka moment he had been looking for to incorporate faith into his home repair organization and limit missed opportunities to share the Gospel." He wanted to replicate the Good Works Ambassador Ministry model within his organization. We didn't see that coming. Maybe, just maybe, God wanted the ministry program of Good Works to be the first step in replication. That interaction led Good Works to launch a monthly videoconference Faith Affinity Group within ReFrame in January 2019 and Deb Lego, Good Works Outreach Director, became a Faith Program Consultant for ReFrame members. At the 2019 ReFrame Conference, Affinity Group members hosted morning devotions for conference attendees and Bob and Deb facilitated two breakout sessions entitled: Is Home Repair Eclipsing your Ministry and God Stories. Each session was well-attended and to cap off the conference, Good Works received a "Best Practices Award for Partnership with Homeowners" acknowledging our Ambassador Ministry and use of Hope Certificates.

Replication beyond Chester County has begun! Not in the way originally envisioned, but instead as God intended it to occur. Joe Huggins recruited an Ambassador Director and six Ambassadors in South Carolina and held their first Ambassador workday on March 7, 2020. He shared that what he most appreciates about his interaction with Good Works, "is the bold witness Bob and Deb are having within the ReFrame Association." In Joe's words: "What you are doing is changing organizations and lives for eternity all across the country. The full impact of that will not be realized this side of heaven. This connection is inspiring me to be equally bold in my faith." Additionally, Emmanuel's Hammer, also of South Carolina, and Good Neighbors Home Repair of Kennett Square, PA are both establishing their own Ambassador ministries. Plans are underway for each of these organizations, along with others God directs, to join our Good Works Ambassadors for our first nationwide, virtual Ambassador workshop in September 2020! "For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways," declares the LORD. "As the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways" (Isaiah 55:8-9). Good Works will follow God's lead!

Partners

Partnership occurs when two or more people or organizations come together in order to accomplish something that neither of them could do alone. Devoted, supportive partners are among life's greatest blessings and Good Works has been the benefactor of strong church and business partnerships for over three decades. Another blessing is the introduction of new partners into the Good Works family and among those who united with us in 2019 are three featured here; Garden Spot Village, Calvary Chapel – Chester Springs and Wells Fargo Home Mortgage.

Garden Spot Village

Garden Spot Village is a licensed, non-profit, faith-based continuing care retirement community located in New Holland, Pennsylvania. Cliff Anderson, a resident at Garden Spot and long-time Good Works volunteer became aware that several other Garden Spot residents were contemplating starting a home repair ministry there in New Holland. Cliff persuaded his friends that it would make more sense for them to volunteer with an established organization like Good Works than to go it alone. Convinced of the new plan, Don Aldrich, another Garden Spot resident and Chet Yoder, Garden Spot Chaplain began recruiting their friends and neighbors and before you know it, they had a full work team ready to serve. On a sunny Saturday in May 2019, men and women from Garden Spot Village experienced their first Good Works workday. They repaired a roof, rebuilt a back porch, replaced an outdoor light and even painted the mailbox post. The group returned to work on another home in September and again in November. Don shared the sentiments of the group; "Serving in this way restores people's homes to be safer, warmer and drier. Also, it brings hope to people who may have lost hope and in a practical, physical way shows God's love for them." Plans are already set for the volunteers to return regularly in 2020 and Good Works is pleased to recognize Garden Spot Village as its first retirement community partner!

"It's not what you're retiring from, it's what you're retiring to that matters."

Calvary Chapel – Chester Springs

When several things come together at a single point it is called a confluence. The confluence of two rivers for example, is where they merge to become a single mightier one. For Calvary Chapel – Chester Springs, it was the confluence of several church members who had volunteered with Good Works in various capacities over many years that led to it becoming a Partner Church. Mitchell Maday had served as a Work Crew Leader and Ambassador along with his wife Sally. Doug Thompson was serving on the Good Works Board of Directors. John Clemens had coordinated several church workdays in the past and Mark & Nora McEvoy had become involved with several Good Works special projects and committees. Chuck Breder was volunteering as a technical leader in Phoenixville and the list goes on. Mitch described Calvary as a church with all the ingredients; skilled people, a heart for service and a pent up demand for the opportunities to make a difference in the local community. "People right outside the doors of our church need help, yet are often overlooked" Mitch shared, "You don't have to travel to the other side of the world to share God's love in tangible ways." Being led by the Holy Spirit, Mitch and his fellow congregants submitted a proposal to church leadership, which was approved, and presented Good Works at their annual Men's Retreat and Bible Study. "Everyone pitched in and the response was overwhelming with 26 church members signing up to help," Mitch added. Sally and her friend Mary Lou Griffin agreed to take on lunch duties, clinching the deal and enabling Calvary Chapel to begin work on their first home in April 2019. Like disparate streams coming together to form a mighty river, the Calvary Chapel team has converged as one of Good Works' newest Partner Churches.

"Seeing the impact our church has had on the homeowner and the hearts of the people as they serve and has been an incredible blessing."

Wells Fargo Home Mortgage

Lindsey Grace, had only worked at Wells Fargo Home Mortgage in West Chester, PA for a little over a year when the opportunity to organize an employee volunteer day crossed her desk. "Wells Fargo encourages its employees to volunteer with a local charity each quarter," Lindsey shared, "and a Community Care grant can be provided to the charity when a group of employees join in." There are a lot of worthy non-profit organizations in West Chester, but Good Works' mission resonated with Wells Fargo's community giving values. The company has a legacy of supporting local non-profits that provide sustainable home ownership, affordable housing and disaster relief & rebuilding. "We are in the business of helping people get in their homes and stay in them." Lindsey said, "It's the joy of the job."

At first, Lindsey had concern about volunteering for a home repair organization. "Good Works does REAL construction and I wasn't sure that we had the skills to contribute." But her concerns never materialized on the workday. The team of fifteen Wells Fargo employees were split between two low-income West Chester homes with a Good Works technical leader assigned to each. Projects ranged from installing basement window wells, repairing a front porch, clearing overgrown brush from a backyard and much more. "Good Works provided all the materials, tools and training we needed to complete every project and the homeowner was so very appreciative working alongside our team." Good Works appreciates how local businesses like Wells Fargo in West Chester are making a difference in the community and are looking forward to hosting the team again in 2020.

"Like Good Works, Wells Fargo is in the business of helping people get and keep their homes."
